$512,130 School Budget Ok'd If "Catch-All" Fund Itemized

The Cameron Independent School District budget calling for expenditure of $512,130.33 has been approved for all practical purposes. This shows an increase in the overall operation from 1955 budget of $13,818.15.

The budget had to be into the state at an early date and the proposed budget was acceptable with the board except in form. The amounts listed under "Miscellaneous" and "Other Supplies and Expenses," must be "Scolded Out" before board members will give their unqualified endorsement of the budget.

Total administration cost shows a decrease from $17,223.94 to $14,000.00.

AN EDITORIAL

By "Bo Peeps"

There's nothing so sure as death, taxes and FOR CAMERON, higher water rates.

You see, while an engineering firm was figuring out what Cameron needs in the way of water and sewer improvement and extensions (and they made an exhaustive report) some financial experts were finding out how Cameron could raise the money.

WELL THE FINANCIAL MEN DID IT! They came up with figures that show that bonds for more than half a million dollars can be floated with nothing more than an approximate twenty-five percent raise in the water rate. (They were shocked at the low rate now in effect). They "Let the cat out of the bag". That is how money can be raised for water and sewer improvements and that is how it is going to be raised BOND ISSUE OR NO BOND ISSUE. The water rates are going UP in Cameron. This will bring in an extra twenty to thirty thousand dollars annually.

The council and succeeding councils can spend the extra money annually as it sees fit WITH NO STRINGS ATTACHED. They can patch in here and there and make a few extensions. You know, just like making the old family bus run another year or two. To get really corny "They might have a SEDIMENTAL attachment to the present water system." They might prefer to keep the old system running "Another year."

Then, on the other hand, they can go the bonding route. That same annual revenue will retire the bonds necessary to put in the entire works BRAND NEW with a mess of strings attached.

Bonding companies that soak half a million bucks in a city MAKE REGULAR INSPECTIONS. That half million has to spent just like the specs call for it to be spent. That is the law.

If you think $20,000 annually isn't enough to retire half a million in bonds in 35 years just get your favorite math teacher to multiply it out for you. Bond buyers buy on a cinch, they don't gamble.

It all resolves itself down to one fact YOU ARE GOING TO PAY FOR IT, in higher water rates, whichever route you go.

Cameron is growing. The need for a 16 inch intake line is ALREADY HERE. The 8 inch line is already over-taxed and the city could have sold a lot more water this year if it could have been delivered.

Cameron cannot possibly "Be Better Off" another year. Cameron can't "Save their money and pay cash" for a complete job because every nickel cash they take in is going to have to go to keep up with expanded city limits and more people.

So there you have it: The water rates ARE GOING UP. The city will have the money to 1. Spend on repairs and extensions piecemeal 2. Retire bonds with the money and go first-class and get an "Approved Water Supply" sign on the highway which is very attractive to people looking for a place to land a business or otherwise.

Farm Bureau Sets Soil Bank Talk For Sept. 10

Full explanation and discussion of the Soil Bank Program for 1957 by I. H. Lloyd, Program Specialist with the State A.S.C. office in College Station, will be given at a meeting of Milam County Farm Bureau at the Simon-George Memorial Hall at 7:30 p.m. on next Thursday night, September 20 according to John A. Smith, president of the Bureau.

Alva Sanders, manager of the Cameron A.S.C. office will outline the legume program that will be used in Milam.

President Smith announces that a question and answer period will follow the main address. He urges a full attendance for the meet.

Drive Slow Let 'Em Grow

SCHOOL BUS is plainly printed on front and rear of each such vehicle and all such buses are uniformly painted in yellow and black throughout the state says a release from the Texas Education Agency.

In 1955 there were 79 accidents in rural areas (outside city limits). Three children and two adults were killed in these accidents said J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education. "Even one preventable accident, as we all know, is one too many," Edgar said.

The law says that upon meeting or overtaking from either direction a school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging children, the driver shall stop immediately before passing, then proceed with due caution at a speed which is prudent and does not exceed ten miles per hour. The law does not apply within the city limits.

In Cameron a new speed zone of 20 miles per hour has been established around the schools and one infraction has been apprehended by police. Chief of Police Dolan says that no warnings will be given, other than the signs that have been set up noting the speed zone. One high school boy was given a ticket last week and in the future tickets will be given ON THE FIRST OFFENSE.

Texas Extension Service Locates Hay For Farmers

Hay for Texas farmers and ranchers is being located by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Through cooperation with extension services in other states, J. D. Prewitt, associate director of the Texas service is locating sources of hay which Texans can buy.

It is already known that several thousand tons of hay is available in the middle west, Mr. Prewitt said. States which have indicated they have hay for sale include Kansas, Iowa and Minnesota. Assistance of the state headquarters was asked earlier by agricultural agents in counties where farmers and ranchers were unable to produce hay this year due to drought.

Indications are that there is an inadequate supply of hay in Texas. Prices of the hay varies, depending on the kind and quality. Freight rates also vary according to tonnage and the distance transported. Local railroad freight officials said, however, in carload lots freight rates are about $2.40 a ton from Minneapolis to Bryan, $23.40 from Sioux City to Bryan, and $19.60 from Topeka to Bryan.

Information has been made available to agricultural agents in each Texas county for availability to local farmers and ranchers listing amounts of hay available and addresses of its location in other states, Mr. Prewitt added.

Women Bowlers Organize Eight Teams Under IBC

The Cameron Women's Bowling League organized under Women's International Bowling Congress rules with eight teams it was announced this week. Games start September 17 and runs for 28 weeks.

Teams and their captains are: 1. Falstaff-Annie Schattler 2. New Cameron Drug-Evelyn Burks. 3. National Hall-Carrie Gurecky 4. Buick-Annie Laake. 5. Coca Cola-Lottie Hollas 6. Vacullin's Service Station - Ida Michalka. 7. Green's Funeral Home - Audrey Boyce. 8. Pearl-Irene Mees.

on how the finance firms are induced to put their money into bonds in such a town as Cameron. It is the research such as this that gives them the basis for their investment. The report follows.

"The City is a marketing center for the surrounding agricultural area and also contains hatcheries, cotton gins, an oil mill, a compress, machine shops and various service industries.

The aluminum company at Rockdale furnished considerable employment in Cameron. The City is served by the Santa Fe and Texas and New Orleans (Southern Pacific) Railroads and is located on U. S. Highways 77 and 190 and State Highway 36.

D. Future Possibilities

The City of Cameron has shown a steady growth in the past and has developed rapidly in the period 1950-55 probably stimulated by the employment possibilities of the Aluminum plant and the widespread move from the farms to the urban areas. The increasing diversification of agriculture seems to indicate a more stable future growth for agricultural marketing and service areas such as Cameron.

The employment possibilities at the aluminum plant should act as a stabilizing force on the future and the Rockdale plant is one of the most modern in the United States.

The provision of an adequate filtered water supply for Cameron should help in securing future light industrial plants and service establishments.

In light of the above facts Cameron seems to have excellent possibilities for a steady future growth.

SECTION II A. POPULATION AND WATER NEEDS

There are several methods of forecasting the future population to be expected in a City. One method is to base growth on past population growth of the city. Another method is to base the future growth on that of similar cities which are now larger from the time when their population was the same as the present population of the City under study. The method used for Cameron is a combination of these two methods.

The report then tabulates Cameron population in ten year spans from 1890 and projects to 1975.

1890 pop 1608; 1900 pop 3341; 1910 pop 3262; 1920 pop 4298; 1930 pop 4655; 1940 pop 5040; 1950 pop 5227; 1955 estimated pop 7240; 1960 estimated pop 8200; 1965 est. pop 9400; 1970 est. pop 10,500; 1975 est. pop 12,000.

Bo Peeps

By James E. "Bo" Patterson

Recently in the little community of Jonah, in eastern Williamson County, a woman was drilling for water and the crew struck OIL... it UPSET her... told the drillers to move to a new location and begin drilling again FOR WATER which just goes to show you oil is no longer the most desired liquid in Texas, at least in Central Texas... it's WATER we want.

Rev. Richard J. Bradshaw has come up with the unique idea that since he is "Superintendent" of the "Sidewalk Engineers" at the site of the Episcopal Rectory at 302 E. 8th, he will erect bleachers charge $1 for looking and $10. for giving with the advice and That, he feels, will pay for the rectory. You see the Rev. Bradshaw was an owner in a firm of Civil Engineers before going into the ministry.

Today, Wednesday, is the first anniversary of Bo Peeps at the Cameron Herald. "Happy Anniversary To Me." If you Doc Evans et al will help me out, even more, it is possible that I might have a second anniversary at this desk.

Did you know that Cameron Water Company can't pump any more water now that water is running over the dam than it could when it wasn't? The lines just aren't big enough.

Milam Condemnation On 36 Set, FM Roads Asked Set Out

At a meeting of County Commissioners Monday E. J. Burks, Bob Terry and Clyde Hensley were appointed commissioners in condemnation suits on highway 36, which will, when completed, bring the right of way in the county up to a point that finalization will be in sight. The only obstacle on the city right of way for this highway rests in the completion of negotiations with the Magnolia Petroleum Company at the junction of the highways 36 and 77.

Mrs. Ruby LeMere who has been working in the office of the County Judge since spring on the rolls for surplus food commodity distribution has now been put to work in the office of Roy Wright, Farm Home Administration head filling out forms for farmers in the hay-roughage program. The Judge told commissioners that the state has advised that $102,000 is available for paper work on that program, and that the state will reimburse the county for part of that paper work. Mrs. LeMere will complete that job prior to "another program coming up." (Surplus Commodity Distribution) Farm-market road 2247 from Yarellton to Bell County line was placed in the hands of Commissioner Ramey and the County Judge to sign up for the right-of-way at a stipulated sum per acre.

A letter from the office of the District Road Supervisor Blair in Bryan asked the court to set out its first, second and third choice for county roads to be built in 1957 and 58. Blair asked the court to set a time and place for discussion with representatives of the state highway commission on their choices. This date was set for today and the Judge noted that at that conference the commissioners could be advised what, if anything, the two groups from Milam County, who went to Austin had accomplished. Judge Smith noted that his attitude on the placement of road construction is "I don't care where they go just so they are built in Milam County." He added that "There are several road needs in the county more in need than others who have gotten more attention in the press and in Austin. He pointed to the Blackjack, Friendship, Marak and Bushdale 486 roads as instances.

The people don't always realize said the Judge, that the commissioners court doesn't have firm control over the placement of traffic count, density, school bus and mail routes etc. and certainly roads. The state considers the "don't" look at precinct lines and don't pay too much attention to the county lines. The Judge was loud in his praise of the work Mr. Thornton of Austin "He calls 'em as he sees 'em" and he keeps in most to the entire statewide network of roads.

When you look at the map you see that we haven't done so badly in the last five years the Judge concluded.

Cotton Classers Under Fire Of Farm Bureau

Farm Bureau leaders in the area served by the Smith-Doxey government cotton classing office at Dallas are asking for a Congressional investigation of government classing.

Hoyt Gaston, Waxahachie, a Farm Bureau director, said that he and other Farm Bureau officials in North Texas requested the investigation because of widespread complaints about the way the government is classing this year's cotton crop.

Gaston has conferred with Rep. E. C. Gathings, (D. Ark.), chairman of the cotton subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee. The Farm Bureau director said Gathings was agreeable to holding either one or a series of hearings on the matter.

Cotton farmers in the North Texas area served by the Dallas classing office complain that the government classers are placing grades on their cotton $10 to $20 a bale lower than private classers. Smith-Doxey officials say they are only following government standards.

A mass meeting attended by Smith-Doxey officials and cotton farmers was held Aug. 29 in Dallas. Gaston said he has had numerous complaints that government classers have placed even lower grades on cotton sent to the classing office since that meeting. The Dallas meeting was called by Gaston and Edwin Sanderson, Paris, another Farm Bureau director.

Gaston said that other cotton-producing areas are voicing complaints at the way government classers are grading cotton this year. He said Rep. Gathings promised to contact Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, vice-chairman of the House Agriculture committee. Gaston said he hoped Poage would act immediately to call hearings on the issue.

Civil Defense Can Be Local As Fires Floods, Tornadoes

Civil defense training has saved and will continue to save hundreds of lives in Texas even though Texas never suffers a defense emergency, William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense and disaster relief, said today.

In urging Texans to observe Civil Defense Week Sept. 9-15, McGill said, "The training received by civil defense officials and volunteers is not something to be shelved like military warfare material, to be used on some future fateful day.

"It can be used along with the skills attained in techniques of survival in our daily life, in preserving our property, in saving our neighbor's life, in maintaining the human and economic resources of our nation."

"I am reminded of the two small children in Hamilton County who are living today because of the civil defense training their mothers received in home nursing courses," McGill said.

"A one-year-old child almost drowned in a stock pond. Before the doctor arrived, the child was given artificial respiration and was revived."

"In the second instance, a little girl received a severe cut that severed an artery at the ankle. The nearest hospital was 20 miles away. The girl's mother used her home nursing training to render first aid during the long, frantic journey, thus helping to save her child's life."

McGill said these were only two of many cases reported to the State Defense Office in Austin in which civil defense training help ed to save lives.

"It doesn't take a national civil defense emergency or a disastrous flood or tornado to make civil defense training a vital part of every citizen's life," McGill said.

During Antarctica's summer, microscopic forms of sea life coat the underside of bay and ocean ice in a dark-brown layer like peanut butter. This plankton layer soaks up the heat of sunlight filtering through from above, and melting the ice faster from the bottom than on top, the National Geographic Society says.

Ermine, prized for centuries as royal raiment, is actually the winter coat of weasels, which turn from brown in summer to pure white in snow season, except for jet-black ends of their tails.

This month thousands of our friends and neighbors are assuming the obligations and being granted the privileges of citizenship in the United States of America.

We welcome these new citizens into our great American family. Like most families, we often disagree among ourselves. But when important matters are at stake, Americans have long been noted for their great spirit of cooperation.

The United States Savings Bond is a case in point. Savings Bond ownership is an opportunity open to every citizen. And more than 40,000,000 of them have already taken advantage of it by investing more than $40,000,000,000 in Bonds. Do you own your share? It's the one investment that pays off where it counts the most—in peace of mind and security for yourself, your family and your country.

MINDS ON THEIR WORK—These studies in tense expressions of cowboys during action-filled seconds on a bucking bronc were caught at the Heart O' Texas Fair rodeo a year ago. Dates of this year's Waco fair are Sept. 29 through Oct. 5, with one rodeo performance daily the first six days in the huge Heart O' Texas Coliseum.

Shaping of a waterway has been completed on the farm of district cooperator Stanley Schwartner. Schwartner's farm is located two miles south of Schwartner, Texas.

The waterway will be established to Bermuda grass in the spring. It will serve as a collective outlet for terraces. Terraces to be constructed when the Bermuda grass has sufficient vegetative growth and cover to handle the added flow of water.

This early shaped waterway will have the advantage of receiving fall and winter rains. In addition, cold weather tends to partially recondition the surface soil. Whereas, spring shaped waterways or those waterways shaped a few days before grass sodding or seeding are usually in poor tilth and dry out quickly.

This year's cotton crop was the shortest made in this area in many years, but there was still a good many farmers who came through with better than one-third bale to an acre in spite of the drought.

Clayton Barton, Steve Polzer and Victor Vaculin are a few Central Texas Soil Conservation District cooperators who have reported these yields. They give hubam clover most of the credit for these yields this year. Like most other blackland farmers that have grown hubam in rotation with the cash crops, they think it is the best for soil conditioning, fertility improvement and clover.

J. W. Lynn is well pleased with alfalfa for grazing and hay. He seeded 20 acres to alfalfa last fall and fertilized it with 200 lbs. of phosphate per acre. To help supplement his grazing range land, he used his alfalfa. It was divided into three fields and grazed with steers. Lynn applied 5 or 6 inches of water between grazing with a sprinkler system. The alfalfa was allowed to get about knee high before he grazed it down. He got 5 crops of alfalfa by grazing, and then sold his steers. He is now making a hay crop every 30 days. He is well pleased with alfalfa and feels that it will play a very important part in range development. Additional grazing and hay is always needed and it permits him to defer grazing on part of his range land. Due to extended drought his alfalfa really came in handy. Lynn believes it will also fit in his live stock operation in a normal year.

One bale of cotton from 2 acres of land that were deep chiseled and treated one year with deep rooted hubam clover is the report on this year's cotton crop from cooperator Calvin Cobb near Rogers. This farm is terraced, contour farmed with a regular rotation including hubam clover. Due to good land conditioning and treatment practically no loss of rainfall has occurred on this farm this year.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Marek and daughters on Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ernst of the Clarkston community.

Miss Bette Marek and Mrs. J. W. Marek Sr. of Meeks were visitors in the home of Mrs. J. C. Marek Monday.

Several plots were fenced recently on different range sites in the Belton work area. The sites fenced were the Hard Limestone Rocky site, the Deep Heavy site and the Gravelly Hill site. These sites are located in the western part of Bell county. They are all in poor condition - that is less than a 25 percent cover of good perennial range grasses.

These plots will be observed by ranchers and others to see how long it will take to develop a cover of good range grasses under complete deferment. It will also show whether reseeding is necessary. The plots fenced are located on Mrs. Darrell Sprott's ranch south of Nolanville, Fred Howell's ranch at Cedar Knobb, Kaiser Brothers' ranch north of Nolanville and E. L. Sprott's ranch south of Killeen.

Due to the extended drought it is felt that much of our range land will probably need reseeding in order to develop a cover of grass in a reasonable length of time. The plots should show whether reseeding is necessary.

Large channel type terraces are being constructed on the Lillian Rankin farm near Pendleton. They will empty into a Bermuda grass waterway put in two years ago. A crop rotation which includes hubam clover is being carried out by the farm operator, W. H. Berry. Also included in the conservation program is pasture improvement which includes proper use, rotation grazing, and weed control. Miss Rankin and Mr. Berry have been cooperating with the Central Texas Soil Conservation District for the past two years in maintaining and improving soil fertility on this farm.

County Agent Notes

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

FALL CROPS: Even though we have had rains in parts of the county, it is questionable whether oats, rye and barley should be sown before the last week in Sept. or the first part of October for fall grazing.

Oats that were dry sown would stand a better chance than those sown now. The operation of seed bed preparation and planting will disturb the soil causing it to dry out unless more rain follows. Then too, we could have some more hot weather during September. Oats, rye and barley are cool season plants and do not stand hot dry weather while plants are small.

FALL ARMY WORMS: Army worms will be a threat to fall crops. The worms do not become conspicuous until they are nearly grown. Young worms feed near the ground at first and are not generally noticed until they become 1 to 1½ inches in length. At first, the young larvae do not consume the entire leaves of the plant but skeletonize them, leaving the veins and ribs. This time ing the veins and ribs. This type to appear on lawns as well as out in fields where concentrated feeding of the worms occurs. Whitish patches that appear are the first indication that small armyworms are present.

Fall armyworms can be expected to become a problem in the late summer and fall, especially if good moisture conditions prevail. Cool, wet weather is an incentive for rapid increases in numbers of the worms.

The adult moths are active at night. Eggs are laid by the moths at night in clusters of 50 to several hundred, preferably on grass or small grain blades. Eggs hatch in 2 to 4 days. Larvae or worms feed for 2 to 3 weeks. There may be more than one generation a year and a generation may be completed in less than a month.

The army worm may be controlled with several insecticides. Toxaphene-DDT (2-1) mixture, DDT used alone, Aldrin, Dieldrin, Heptachlor and other materials may be used. Detailed instructions for using these materials are available at the County Extension Office.

Infestation Costs Millions In Stored Grain Annually

Insects destroy millions of dollars worth of stored grain annually. It has been estimated that insects eat as much as 2 percent of the nation's farm-stored grain monthly. Stored grain pests are capable of destroying large quantities of farm-stored grain in Texas. Losses may be due primarily to storage structures that are not clean when filled with grain, or due to high temperatures and high moisture contents which are an incentive to a build-up of insect infestations.

The primary insects that infest stored grain are the rice or corn weevil, lesser grain borer, Angoumois grain moth and the granary weevil. Other insects that may damage grain are the cadelle beetle, saw-toothed grain beetle, flat grain beetle, confused flour beetle, rice moth and Indian-meal moth. For detailed information concerning the major stored grain pests, refer to Farmers' Bulletin No. 12-60 STORED GRAIN PESTS. This bulletin gives very good illustrations and life histories of the pests that attack stored grain.

Preventive measures are very important in protecting grain from insect damage. Grain storage structures should be constructed to exclude all outside moisture and be easily accessible for inspection and fumigation of the grain. Power ventilation constructed in the storage bins is very helpful in cooling or drying grain.

Grain should be stored only in bins that have been cleaned thoroughly of all waste materials such as old grain, trash, or any other debris that may furnish living quarters for insects. Good house-keeping practices in and around grain storage bins will aid in eliminating insect infestations. After the bin outside area have been cleaned thoroughly, spray the inside and outside area with any of the following formulations at the rate of 2 gal. per 1,000 sq. ft. of surface area: 1) DDT, 2½ percent; 2) Methoxychlor, 2½ percent; 3) TDE, 2½ percent. Larger volumes of the spray mixture may be needed to treat the outside and surrounding area of the storage structure. The above mentioned insecticides are available as wettable powders and emulsion concentrates. Add 2 lbs. of 50 percent wettable powder to 5 gal. of water or ½ gal. of 25 percent emulsion concentrate to 5 gal. of water to acquire the recommended spray mixture.

Spray mixtures containing 0.5 percent pyrethrins, or allethrins, applied to the walls and floors also are effective.

Store clean, sound grain with a moisture content of 12 percent or below. Grain containing a high percentage of moisture is attractive to insects, promotes mold growth and may induce heating. Grain that is free from broken kernels is safer from insect damage than dirty cracked grain. Grain bins should not be filled too full because adequate working space is needed to fumigate and inspect the grain properly.

Frequently, the rice weevil and Angoumois grain moth infest grain in the field before harvest. In many instances, it is advisable to fumigate soon after the grain is stored or not later than two weeks after storage.

Several liquid fumigants are effective for use in controlling stored grain pests. These are formulated as various combinations and sold under different trade names. The dosages also vary according to the formulations used. Directions for use as given on the label should be followed closely. The grain surface should be fairly level before fumigation. Liquid fumigants properly applied will penetrate grain and give good insect control to a depth of 10 to 12 ft. Grain may be fumigated effectively at greater depths when bins are equipped with proper aeration facilities.

In fumigating large volumes of grain with liquid fumigants, it is advisable to use some form of power equipment. However, hand sprayers with a capacity of 3 to 5 gal. are satisfactory for applying liquid fumigants to small volumes of grain. To obtain the best results, it is necessary to use equipment that will create, maintain and discharge an even uniform flow of the fumigant over the entire surface of the grain. Some forms of power equipment that may be used to apply fumigants are: 1) compressed-air tanks 2) diaphragm or brass gear-type pumps. These pumps may be operated by a small motor or from the power take-off of a tractor. Select or construct a discharge nozzle that disperses the liquid in an even pattern and as a coarse stream or spray. It is best to fumigate on a warm, still day when the grain temperature is 70 to 85 degrees F.

PRECAUTIONS TO TAKE BEFORE AND DURING THE FUMIGATION PROCESS

1. Check all electrical equipment and repair all defective wiring.
2. Do not smoke near the building or equipment during fumigation.
3. Use a hose of sufficient length to move the equipment a safe distance from the building that is being fumigated, especially when using a gasoline motor or tractor for power.
4. Check hoses and connections for possible leaks.

In most all cases, the persons applying the fumigant should be equipped with proper gas masks. Use a gas mask with a full face-piece and proper canister that is approved by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for applying fumigants. Check the mask for possible leaks before starting the fumigation. The effective life of a gas mask canister is limited. Keep an accurate account of the time that a canister is used and replace it with a new one after about 20 min. continuous exposure to grain fumigants. Avoid spilling the fumigant on the skin, clothing or shoes. Clothing wet with fumigant should be removed at once and the skin washed with soap and water.

After the grain has been stored and fumigated, make periodic inspections at about two-week intervals to detect injurious insect infestations. Probe samples should be taken at various areas and depths through the grain. Sift the samples through a 10 to 12 mesh screen and examine for insects. Prepare for fumigation if one granary weevil, rice weevil or lesser grain borer, or as many as five insects of other species such as flower and grain beetles,

Texas U. Law School Plans Tax Conference

The Fourth Annual Taxation Conference, sponsored October 18-20, by the University of Texas School of Law, is expected to attract hundreds of lawyers, accountants, trust officers and life insurance underwriters. But the general public will be the beneficiary.

Wills, estates and trusts - taxation and planning - will feature the meeting, during which some of the country's foremost authorities will develop the fundamentals of estate, gift and trust taxation, analyze lifetime and testamentary distributions of property, and present completed estate plans.

Invitations were mailed this week to some 12,000 members of the State Bar of Texas to attend the conference.

Judge John R. Brown of Houston, U. S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, will preside at the three-day meeting.

The basis of mankind's clocks, the turning of the earth itself, varies slightly. It sometimes speeds up, then slows down. These differences are minute. From 1680 to 1800 the earth "lost" 27 hundredths of a second. From 1800 to 1900 it "gained" 30 hundredths of a second, the National Geographic Society says.

ECONOMIC ILLITERATES

The odds are overwhelming "that you are an economic illiterate." So writes Sylvia Porter, the well-known financial columnist. The reason for her indictment is this: "You're among the less than 5 percent of all high school graduates in our land if you had even one semester course in economics."

Miss Porter recommends that economics be a required course in every high school and in the first two years of college. We live in a society which is dominated by economic considerations. As workers and consumers we make economic decisions every day of our lives. The failure of the schools in this respect must be reminded.

SIX OF THE BEST!

Sydney, Australia, like many an American community, has been plagued with juvenile crime. Duck-tailed teen-agers, called bodgie-boys Down Under, have wantonly destroyed automobiles, engaged in gang wars, and beaten innocent bystanders.

Sydney's answer takes the form of a two-pronged ordinance. First, the parents must pay for the damage done by their delinquent offspring. Second, as Robert Ruark vividly phrases it, "A father must, in the presence of a police officer, apply six of the best to sonny boy's stern — with a police whip, and to the satisfaction of the attending officer."

Sydney has set a precedent that every city and town could profitably follow.

WHEN WE GO SHOPPING

The cost of living has been the news again. The government's official index recently climbed fractionally to an all-time high. One reason was a rise in food prices.

However, before you angrily decide that someone is extorting you when you go shopping, a few more facts should be taken into consideration. The National Association of Food Chains reports that food prices are still nearly three per cent below the 1952 peak, and that the average factory worker's take-home pay will buy him from 15 to 18 per cent more food now than it did in that prior year.

When prices rise, we tend to blame the retailer. That's a human failing — he's the man who sells us the goods and takes our money. But the fact is that a very small part of what we spend at retail does more than pass through his hands. Food chains, for instance, commonly earn a profit of about one cent on each sales dollar. Other kinds of stores earn three or four cents, and often less. The rest of the money goes for payrolls, supplies, rents, taxes, and so on.

There is still another factor that demands consideration in any price discussion. This is the tremendous change that has taken place in recent years in processing. We see it in its most dramatic form in foods which come to us in virtually ready-for-the-table stage, and demand a minimum of time and work on the part of the housewife. Advanced processing of this nature requires much labor and costs money, and the consumer must pay for it.

We get top value when we go shopping — thanks in large part to our highly competitive mass distribution system.

RESEARCH IS THE KEY

Half a century ago a boy of 15, aided by his brother, built a tractor. To the amazement of everyone, it actually worked.

Now he is chief engineer of research with one of the leading farm equipment manufacturers. Recently he was given a gold medal by an engineering society for developments for which he was responsible. He has said: "The farmers of the world will require labor-saving tools of even greater efficiency, safety, simplicity, comfort, and adaptability to rapidly changing methods of agriculture."

That requirement dominates the thinking and the work of the entire farm equipment industry. Good as a machine may be, to the engineers it is never quite good enough. They are always looking for ways and means to make it better. That means a heavy emphasis on research.

When this particular engineer first entered the employ of a farm machinery company, in 1927, there were about half a dozen employees in the engineering and research department. Today there are more than 200. That change is typical of the equipment industry as a whole.

Research makes machines safer. It leads to machines that will last longer, and do more work at less cost and with less human effort. It is at the heart of the continuing agricultural revolution.

The Gonzales Gossip

Ed Note: This columnist, Walter H. Richter, knows all about pomposity and about under-salaried college pedagogs. This former tutor of journalism at a state university got so absent-minded one day that he started out for the classroom and wound up in the country newspaper business. They took him in at Gonzales and gave him a series of nice warm baths, and boiled out all that old pedagogy and now that he is "recuperating" they are humoring him by letting him use the typewriter. The following is what came out on the first try.

By Walter H. Richter

I see by the papers that they're going to start training Texas teachers by television. People holding bachelors degrees but lacking the required courses in education may watch a series of 26 TV broadcasts, take a few tests, do a little reading on the side, and qualify for a teaching certificate.

While I have some small misgivings about this arrangement, I shall not stand in the way of progress - if that's what it is - but shall adopt a wait and see attitude toward the whole thing. I'll admit there are a few obvious advantages.

Inhibitions Are Out!

Almost all long-suffering students have suppressed the desire in a class-room at one time and another to say "Oh why don't you dry up, you pompous pedagog" or make other appropriate comments about the lecture and the lecturer. This TV teaching, you can see, opens up a whole new avenue for the elimination of such representations and frustrations.

Hello Mother

On the other hand, I can see some of the lecturers succumbing to the temptation to ham it up in the hope that some talent scout might happen to be tuned in. Considering what teachers are paid, even on the college level, I can sure you that a lot of them are looking for a better shake.

What A Switch!

This development will probably be the final blow to the old-time disciplinarians who feel that modern education already gives the student too much freedom of movement and expression. Imagine no classroom restraint on gum-chewing, smoking, shoe-shedding, belching, and even snoring a little in the middle of the lecture! What a switch!

I can just hear some female recounting to her friends in the manner of Marilyn Monroe. "Do you know something? I attended class yesterday with absolutely nothing on but the treevree!"

Education, where is thy sting?

IT'S A FACT

No patient is admitted to the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation without a referral from his local physician or a doctor who has been consulted on the case.

And no patient is admitted as an in-patient until the staff physicians (doctors of physical medicine) have carefully examined him and determined that the treatment program at Warm Springs will be helpful. After admission, the medical director continues to send periodic medical reports to the referring doctor outlining the progress of the case.

Full details on admissions can be obtained by writing the Registrar, GWSF, P. O. Box 58 Gonzales, Texas.

Thumbnail Sketches Of Returning Yoe '55 Squadmen

These men did not letter in 1955 but were on the A squad. It was erroneously noted last week that they were lettermen. Only five letter men return this year.

JESSE KIRK - weighs 155 pounds. He is a sophomore and plays quarterback. Jesse is the best punter to play for Yoe High in many a day. He is also a left handed passer and will be used as a linebacker.

HUBERT MAREK - weight 160 pounds. He is a junior and one of the most improved ball players on the squad. He is a track star and will be used as a left halfback. He is a very aggressive player and should become a regular.

JIMMY SMALLEY - a 150 pound center. He is a junior and should show much improvement. He played almost enough to win his letter in 1955 and he will be a contender for a starting position. FARRELL ANGELL - a 145 pound guard. Ferrell played both on the "B" team and some on the "A" squad last fall and gained some valuable playing experience that should help him a lot in making a bid for a starting position.

SIDNEY KARNAEK - a 165 pound junior. Sidney improved with every work-out. He is a good student of the game and an excellent blocker, and enjoys it the most when the going gets rough. He will be a strong contender for a starting position. GENE HILLMAN - 190 pound junior who can play tackle and end. He has the possibilities of being one of the greatest linemen ever to play for Yoe High. The Coaches are counting strong on him and if he has a good year the opponents will have a bad one.

B SQUAD BOYS COMING UP WARREN RINN - 145 pounds, who played guard on the "B" team but in spring training was shifted to a half-back and became very promising. He has a good speed and should be a stand-out with an all out effort.

ARCHIE MRAZ - 140 pound sophomore who can play either a half-back position or a quarterback. Archie developed very fast in spring training. He has fair speed and is a fierce competitor.

TODDY LAWRENCE - 135 pound half-back who was a stand out on the "B" team. In spring training Toddy was very outstanding on defense. He should be an outstanding boy because of his speed.

JOHNNY DAVIS - 135 pound sophomore half-back who is a very promising breakaway runner. He is a good competitor and will make a strong bid for a starting position on the Yoemen team.

GEORGE ZAROSKY 155 pound sophomore fullback who comes from a long line of athletes. Geo is very aggressive and likes to play when it's rough. He will be used as a fullback and a defensive linebacker.

JOHNNY TEPERA 140 pound sophomore who can either play center or guard, is a fierce little competitor. He was a stand out on the "B" team although rather small as football players go in weight he is loud in actions.

JOHNNY RUBAC 145 pound senior who plays for keeps on PLAN FARM BUREAU DAY—Eighteen Central Texas counties will be represented at Farm Bureau Day (District 8), in Waco at the Heart O' Texas Fair on opening day, Saturday, Sept. 29. Shown here are some of the committee members viewing the plaque which will go to the county chapter having the best attendance at the fair. They are (left to right): Mrs. Elizabeth Estes, Lorena; Mrs. W. B. Oswald, Clifton; District Director S. W. McClaren, Cameron; Oswald, Bosque County Farm Bureau president; Cleon Warren, Hewitt, McLennan County Farm Bureau president, who is chairman of the day. Chapter beauty queens will compete at 8 p. m. that day for the title of District 8 Farm Bureau Queen.

every play. He came out for football for the first time his Jr. year and quickly won the respect of his coaches for his hard playing. He could come through and become a regular his Sr. year.

RAYMOND TEPERA 145 lb. sophomore and the other half of the Tepera twins. He plays guard on offense and is a stand out defensive linebacker. He is one of the hustlingest little Yoemen on the squad.

ALBERT HOELSCHER 140 lb. sophomore guard. Albert has the possibilities of becoming a stand out. He improved greatly in spring training and after he adds weight and maturity to his side, he should be a fine ball player. BILLIE KOSTRUM 155 pound senior tackle. Billie was a starter on the "B" team and showed a lot of promise in spring training. He should be able to help a lot, his best asset is his ability to block.

KENNETH BOWLEY a 140 pd. senior end who has a lot of scrap. He is light but has the ability to catch the hoghide. He is used to the best advantage on offense, but can be used on defense if called upon.

LEE HOLLAS 150 pound sophomore, who was perhaps the most outstanding boy on the "B" team. Although he weighs only 150 pounds, he hits like a 200 pounder. Lee is an excellent blocker and a fierce defensive player.

LEON ERNST 150 pound end, one of the most improved boys on the "B" squad. Leon is a good pass receiver and his blocking improves with each workout. He could push some one for a starting position.

BURNES THOMAS a 145 pound junior halfback. Burnes has fair speed and is a good student of the game. If he continues to improve as he should, he will be a decided asset to the Yoemen team. ALLEN DODSON 140 pound sophomore quarterback. Allen has the makings to be very outstanding. A pair of good hands for ball handling and the ability to think quickly. He will make a strong bid for a position on the "A" squad.

Also the following boys continued to show improvement and with a little more experience could make a strong bid for a place on the "A" team. They are: Bartow Johnson, Steve Dohnalik, Daniel Tepera, Dan Mitchan, Eddie Pavlik, Robert Glaser, James Manning, Paul Young, Roger Terry, Rodney Folschinsky, Turner Ronson, Billy Matthews, William Pagach, D. Meeks and John Wayne Josey.

RAY GREEN: Ray is a junior, was a regular as a sophomore and plays end. He weighs 170 pounds and is one of the finest prospective ends ever to wear the Maroon and Gray. Ray is a hustler, a good blocker and very tough defensively.

Ballot Pledge Scratching Believed Mutilation

Wednesday a group of outstanding West Texas Citizens, composed of strong Yarborough supporters, formed a committee to investigate further the continued rumors that many ballots were counted in last Saturday's runoff which had the pledge to support the Democratic nominee scratched out. These reports were reportedly coming in from several parts of the State and a group of men led by Billie Sol Estes and "Coot" Worsham of Pecos, Texas, pledged to investigate the matter to the fullest extent.

Estes stated, "It has been a known fact that for many years the Republicans have voted in the Democratic primaries but nothing could be done. But when I continue to hear that election workers state that they know that ballots were counted that had the pledge marked out, I want everyone to know that I personally will do everything possible to investigate these claims and see that these illegal ballots are thrown out."

"The law reads that a ballot may not be mutilated in any manner and that such ballots must be voided."

Estes continued: "The Democrats of Texas have every right to select their candidate for Governor of the State of Texas without the Republicans openly destroying the pledge to support the nominee of the Democratic party and then voting their choice for the candidate on the Democratic ticket. Loyal Democrats of Texas undoubtedly elected Ralph Yarborough last Saturday but these Republicans votes swung the lead to Senator Price Daniel. We don't know the number of places that this violation of the ballot occurred but we intend to find out. Our contention is that every ballot that had the pledge scratched out should be voided regardless of which candidate they supported."

Worsham and Estes stated that no special favors should be given to any man but that the law should be followed.

The committee did not make known their detailed plans but stated that they felt the other individuals throughout the State would rally with them in their effort to learn the truth concerning the balloting last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. August Mikulec of Corpus Christi, are spending several days this week visiting with friends and relatives in Cameron and Marak.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER WORRIED OVER PLIGHT OF CITY LAWNS NOW SUFFERING IN MANY DROUTH AREA.

Editor's note: The Little River philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Little River is hunting for something to worry about, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was out here on my farm the other cloudless afternoon looking at the sky and wondering when it was gonna rain, although I wasn't worrying about it, there are two things I never worry about because I figure they're out of my hands, one is the weather and the other is how people are going to vote in November, at any rate, while I was watching the sky I stumbled over a newspaper, or rather I didn't stumble on it, I wasn't moving a puff of wind wrapped it around my legs while I was standing still, and I pulled it off and sat down under a tree and the first thing I noticed was a news article on the plight of city people in the big drouth areas of this country.

According to it, lawns and flowers and shrubs are dying in some cities for lack of water, and people are seeing a lifetime of painstaking effort lost in one dry spell. I know this is a tragic thing, but my advice to city people is they'll just have to tighten their belts, store their lawnmowers, turn on their television, and tough this thing out. The loss of a carefully tended lawn is a serious blow, but as a man who has seen a fine crop disappear the same way, I'd say it won't be fatal.

However, I have long recognized that some city people spend more per square yard on their lawn than some farmers spend per square acre on their farm, and the lawn investment in America must run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Therefore, I am surprised that either of the two parties has come out with a platform plank covering this. It seems to me that what city people need is a Soil Bank plan for lawns and shrubs. We don't want to discourage them. The more land there is in lawns, the less there is in farm production, and the more city people work in their yards, the more they eat away at the farm surplus. You take a few million lawns out of commission and the food surplus will pile up worse than ever. A city lawn is one of the best friends a farmer has, and if Sec. Benson would bring his mind to bear on this angle, I believe he'd come up with a plan for a Lawn Support Program. Will you please call it to his attention?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rockdale Filtration Plant In Operation Reports Health Unit

The City of Rockdale has completed and put in operation a new water filtration plant.

The Sanitarian discussed, at length, the City water supply situation, with the City officials of Thorndale. It was decided that the water supply was expected to last another three or four months.

The City of Thorndale has purchased a lot near the water reservoir to erect a new overhead storage tank. The City has also made some improvement at the new lake by deepening and enlarging it.

Treatment of private water supplies has been continued during the month.

The 170 tuberculosis suspects found during the XRay Survey have been followed up since the last of July. By the end of August the following results were obtained. Forty-two suspects have had followup studies to date. Six tuberculous individuals were previously known to the Health Unit, one was reported as a new active case, four as inactive cases of tuberculosis, twenty-nine are non-tubercular, one individual was diagnosed as having a tumor, and one individual is still under evaluation.

Preparations are being made to start the school immunization program about October 1. Rockdale white school will be omitted from the itinerary this year due to its large size and the availability of a part time clinic for those who are unable to pay for their immunizations.

Three tubercular cases were hospitalized in August. One was an active case found on survey, another was reported by a private physician and the third was reported last fall and has finally consented to hospitalization.

S. P. has ordered an average of new freight cars every day since World War II

Shortly after World War II, Southern Pacific started a broad program of acquiring new freight cars to replace equipment worn out during the War and to increase the railroad's car supply.

Under this postwar program we've acquired or ordered 56,854 cars, including 34,850 box cars, at a cost of $356,000,000.

In 1955 alone we placed orders for 15,475 cars to cost approximately $183,000,000—a commitment of roughly three and a half times the 1955 net income of the S. P. System.

Right now we have in service something over 75,000 freight cars of all types. This represents a ten-year increase of 38% in ownership and 46% in carrying capacity. This is an outstanding railroad record.

We think this record of freight car purchases is good evidence that we are doing everything we can to take care of the requirements of our shippers.

sons per water connection. The City water system served some population outside the City limits which would not be included in the U.S. Census.

The report shows the population curves for Cameron and a comparison with Cleburne, Corsicana, and Temple, all cities in the general geographic area of Cameron and having somewhat similar characteristics. Some of these cities showed some leveling off of population increase, occurring mostly during depression years but have resumed their rate of increase since then.

The anticipated 12,000 population based on the rate of increase from 1950 to 1955 and the anticipated population based on the long time rate of increase from 1930 to 1955.

B. WATER CONSUMPTION
The best gage of future water requirements is the amount of water which has been used in the past with due allowances for changes in habits of the water consumers. The use of water per capita has been showing a steady increase in all areas for the past 10 to 15 years. This is partly due to new uses of water such as home laundries, garbage grinders, evaporative air conditioners and swimming pools.

The better economic conditions in general have also increased the use of water due to more widespread use of lawn and garden irrigation, more bathrooms per house and more bathing and generally increased use of water.

In 1940 the annual average use of water per person in Cameron was 51 gallons per day, in 1950 was 81 gpd, in 1954 was 100 gpcpd due to drought conditions and in 1955 was 79 gallons per capita per day.

With this steady increase in consumption in the past it is estimated that the annual per capita consumption for 1975 will be 115 gallons per capita per day.

These figures are for the average annual consumption and all supply, pumping and treatment facilities must be designed on the basis of the maximum annual daily consumption.

C. SEWAGE FLOWS
The amount of sewage flow to be handled by the city sewer system is always smaller than the amount of water pumped to the City. Some water is consumed by water customers who are not connected to the City sewer system. Water is used on lawns and gardens, in evaporative air conditioners and in commercial and industrial processes where it does not reach the sewer system.

For this reason it is estimated that the present sewage flow will not exceed 60 gallons per capita per day and that in 1975 the average annual sewage flow will not exceed 80 gallons per capita per day. This rate of 80 g.p.c.d. will be used for designing future improvements to the sewer collection and treatment facilities.

Succeeding chapters of the report are on PRESENT SYSTEM; FUTURE WELL WATER SUPPLY (covered last week); FUTURE RIVER WATER SUPPLY; DAM AND INTAKE; TREATMENT PLANT (present and projected); SERVICE PUMPS; STORAGE; DISTRIBUTION; SEWER SYSTEM (present and projected); COLLECTION MAINS; ESTIMATED PROJECT COST FOR ALL CONSTRUCTION.

This exhaustive report is interesting reading material for any person interested in an outside engineers appraisal of Cameron's present and future utility needs. There are parts which are so technical that the average person will not readily comprehend but the volume contains sections which are entirely within the understanding of anyone and so a copy of this report will be kept available for anyone who desires to read it at the office of the Cameron Herald. Six-Man Buckholts Badgers Win 32-6 Over Jonesboro In Opener

It was Lamar Gresik and Dwayne Orsag all the way Friday night in Buckholts when the Badgers laid the Jonesboro Eagles low with a 32 to 6 score.

The six-man ball is wide open with little defensive "line" for the runner to contend with. Every play is a more or less broken field play and depends from the pass back on individual blocking. The play is in ten minute quarters, fifteen yards is required for a first down on a field that is forty feet wide by eighty feet long, against a 60 x 100 foot field in the eleven-man game.

The handoffs and the laterals are as numerous as flies around the molasses barrel.

Many Cameronites attended the opening game to the delight of the Buckholts officials who declared it was the best attended opening game in their memory. The Yoe band 100 strong lent much to the football atmosphere.

Gresak opened the attack for the Badgers with a 20 yard scamper and then 15 yards was nullified with a penalty for clipping on the play. Jonesboro offense was bogged down and in four plays could not gain. Orsag then set the stage for the high scoring game with a touchdown on the first down in the Badger series and then converted with a run-over. Badgers 7, Eagles 0.

The second quarter found several exchanges of the ball on fumbles. Following a pass play Gresik to Hutka complete for 20 to the Jonesboro 25. Hutka picked up five, Orsag then teed off on a hand-off from Fritz and Gresik ran the ball over for the extra from the opponents 1 as is the rule in six-man ball.

On the kick-off to the Eagles the ball "bounced back" in the arms of number 13 of the visiting team for the lone Eagle score of the game. The extra point was not converted.

Gresak cut loose with a 34 yard jaunt and then a pitch out to Orsag was good for a first on the Jonesboro 35. Gresik toted for a first down on the Jonesboro 11. Gresik then moved the ball to the opponents five from which point Leland Wiedo, 161 pound Jr. ran the ball over but the extra point failed.

Score 20-6 Jonesboro got down into hallowed ground with several long runs which found the ball finally exchanging hands on the Buckholts 17. Penalties cost the visitors in this series. Orsag carried for 8 and Gresik for 13. Buckholts lost five and then gained it back on an upfield fumble which was anybody's ball and exchanged owners several times before a Buckholts man settled on it. On a pitch-out from Fritz to Gresik added to the latter's mileage for the night and then Orsag raced 30 yards to a teedee making the score at the end of the current quarter 26-6 in favor of the home team. The extra point failed on account of a 15 yard penalty against the Badgers.

With one minute left to play in the game and after the top Badger crew raced in to pull the substitutes out of an apparent hole they moved the pigskin from their own territory with a quick kick putting the ball "back where it belonged" in Jonesboro territory. Mr. Wiedo picked up 15 on a wide open play (as most of them were). Orsag gained 10 at left end repeated with a 9 yard gain to the Jonesboro 9 and then Mr. Orsag put the finishing touches on the game with a touchdown scamper to wind up the score at 32 to 6.

The Badgers made five first downs exclusive of the touchdown runs to none for the visitors. They gained 121 yards not from running to 44 for Jonesboro and made 24 yards net from passing to 18 for Jonesboro. The Badgers punted twice for 29 yards average to three for fifteen by the visitors. The Badgers were penalized three times for a net loss of 53 yards while the Eagles lost 10 yards on two offside penalties.

The Badgers go to Hutto tonight, September 13 for a real test of their strength. The real strength of the Badgers can be said to be in their spirit and the untiring teamwork of the boys who do an able blocking job.

Soil Bank Pay For Wheat In Cash Or Grain

Compensation to farmers for reducing their 1957-crop winter wheat acreage below their wheat allotment, designating such acreage for inclusion in the Soil Banks be in the form of negotiable certificates, R. G. Shrauner, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has announced.

The certificates are redeemable in cash through regular banking channels, or they may be redeemed in grain by the producer to whom they are issued. The certificates will be issued after the County ASC Committee can determine that the acreage-reduction requirements of the program have been met.

Shrauner explained that the amount of compensation for wheat on the farm will be determined by multiplying the base unit rate per bushel for the county by the smaller of (1) the normal yield for the land designated in the agreement as the Acreage Reserve; this figure will then be multiplied by the number of acres determined as the acreage for compensation. The base unit rate per bushel varies by counties.

Except that the wheat acreage placed in the Acreage Reserve for a farm may not exceed the wheat allotment, the maximum wheat acreage which may be "reserved" minimum wheat acreage which may be placed in the Acreage Reserve is 3 acres of the allotment, whichever is smaller.

Land in the Acreage Reserve must not be cropped or grazed during the period of the Soil Bank agreement. If any winter wheat is grown on the farm this fall, Acreage Reserve agreements for the 1957 wheat crop must be signed by September 21, 1956.
